DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: “51”. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled “Replacement Sheet” in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 2, 3, 6, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The claims appear to recite part of the human body in combination with the structure of the claimed invention, for example, “said two connection portions of the top are attached to the top of two healthy teeth” in claim 2. It has been held that a claim directed to or including within its scope, a human being will not be considered to be patentable subject matter under 35 USC 101. The grant of limited, but exclusive property right in a human being is prohibited by the Constitution. In re Wakefield, 422 F.2d 897, 164 USPQ

Art Unit: 3732

636 (CCPA 1970). Applicant needs to clearly state using inferential language that the human anatomy is not claimed. For examination purposes, the claims will be considered as if such limitations involving the combination with a human were not present.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hruska (4,740,160). Hruska discloses a detachable restoration tooth 1 comprising a bottom provided with a cavity extending into the interior of the tooth, an outer surface having a boundary edge in relation to the bottom, a top having two boundary edges in relation to the outer surface, the top is provided with two connection portions 2, and each extending from one of the two boundary edges. The connection portions are provided with a lateral connection portion.

6. Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wismann (3,567,592). Wismann discloses a detachable restoration tooth comprising a bottom provided in one side with a cavity extending into the interior of the tooth and in other side with a protruded portion, an outer surface having a boundary edge in relation to the bottom, a top having two boundary edges in relation to the outer surface, the top is provided with two connection portions, and each extending from one of the two boundary edges (figures 9, 11). The connection portions are provided with a lateral connection portion.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hajjar et al. (6,190,171) and Gayso (5,007,836) are cited to show the state of the art with respect to restoration teeth.
